Ms. Spriegel;

Thank you for reading my email. As a homeowner in the historic district, it is my duty to restore and preserve homes in this area. I was fully aware of my obligation when I purchased my own home. I'm actually about to go plop down over $250k to restore 504 W. Virginia and bring it back to its former glory.

If McKinney wants to continue to reap the benefits of the historic district downtown and the surrounding historic homes, then it would behoove city planners to disallow James Roses' proposal of knocking down the Dowell house. It's imperative that McKinney sends the message to builders, etc. that we value restoration and preservation over destructive profit-seeking. We as a community are making the long term investment in this area.

What can we do to persuade and ensure that the Dowell house is not razed???

Please deny any rezoning request from J.R. Rose for the residential property at 1104 South Tennessee. The City of McKinney has done a fine job of fostering the attraction of the downtown historic district in the 18 years I have been a property owner here, but the very qualities that are drawing commercial interests to our historic downtown will vanish if we allow the unique historic properties to fall victim to the wrecking ball and disappear.

I am the direct neighbor (to the north) of the Dowell house and I wanted to ask a couple of questions and share some concerns about the proposed development of the site. The developer Mr Rose and his partner have visited my home several times in an attempt to have me sign a letter of support of his plans. He has stated that if his plans are not approved that he will demolish the Dowell house and build 10 residences on the space (which currently has 1). I would be extremely concerned if the Dowell House were to be demolished as it has such historic importance in McKinney. The developers plans, even without the demolition seem very overcrowded compared to the other properties in the area.

I am concerned for the privacy aspect of the development.

Also we currently border a strip of land which is owned by the city between us (1006 S Tennessee) and the Dowell House property. The land has not been in use as an alley for many years. The developer has stated to me that he would pave the land and give access for possibly all 10 of the proposed new residences through the 'alley' if we do not sign in support and his plans do not pass.

I have been very reluctant to sign in support partly just in principle that it feel somewhat threatening to be given such ultimatums.

Also I simply do not support changing the character of the neighborhood by building properties so close together. Lastly I think increasing traffic by the elementary school would not be the best idea.

I am not entirely clear what the developers rights are as far as what he can build on his property and also concerning how he can develop the currently abandoned alley. If you could give me any information it would be greatly appreciated.

Yours Sincerely
Oliver Bradley

Hello. I am writing to protest the demolition of the Dowell House. I moved to McKinney 4 years ago because of the beautiful and historic downtown. I could have selected any of the adjacent towns but the historic downtown was the selling factor for my family to select McKinney. If the official's that have been elected or hired to manage this beautiful city want to keep it a desirable place to live and perhaps one day again make the Money Magazine top places to live (a factor in my decision), then those individuals need to protect and have pride in the unique attributes of McKinney. Tearing down a house that is both famous for its role in a movie and a namesake for the local Middle School, is a detriment to this community and shows a gross lack of understanding of the constituents. One developer's greed should not supersede the communities desire to preserve the downtown. If this is allowed, I can guarantee, it will be an issue during upcoming elections. I will ensure that.

Please save our historic downtown from corporate and individual greed and keep McKinney's unique and Historic downtown protected.

Losing this home will be a travesty for the City of McKinney. Our Historic District has seen far too many "tear downs" in the past two years. Continuing to do so will damage the character of our town.

I realize this home lays outside the Historic District; however, it does not diminish it's importance to our history.

Subject: The Dowell House on Tennessee St.

I have recently heard that the Dowell House on Tennessee St. will be sold to develop housing on that land. If this is true, I am saddened.

My deceased husband, Rev. Edward Dowell, was one of the sons of Clifton Dowell Sr., who lived in that house as a child. I remember visiting in the home with my husband. We even stayed there when it was a bed and breakfast. We knew Rev. Ed DeLatte who helped with the movie "Benji" which was filmed there.

I currently live in Dallas, resident since 1981, but often still visit in McKinney. My husband is buried at TJM cemetery south of town. I am a 1962 graduate to McKinney High School and frequently come to visit friends, usually passing by the Dowell House.

I am sorry that in today's world we often tear down places of some historical value rather than find other meaningful purposes for them. That has certainly been the case in Dallas in recent years, although more preservation is happening now.

I do believe communities have need to maintain and restore some of the good from their past - i.e. the McKinney downtown square.. and other places.

I could not let this issue go by without expressing my concern.

thank you,

Cindy Allen Dowell

I am writing to you to please consider a zoning request that will require the developer keep the Dowell House as is and in its current location.

My husband and I are relatively new to TX, but have been to Historic McKinney many times. Although we do NOT live in Historic McKinney, we made the decision to move to McKinney because of Historic McKinney. After looking at 75 homes (yes seventy-five) throughout Dallas and North Dallas we thought Historic McKinney reminded us of Ohio. We lived in Ohio for over 30 years and needed our new place to feel like home and Historic McKinney is that kind of place.

We are still adjusting to life in TX, but one thing I will never adjust to is the over-crowding of homes on small property lots. I cannot stand to look out over the horizon here because all I can see is one roof top after another in what I call Soduko Puzzle Grid lots. The thought of building more track homes is disturbing, especially in an area like Historic McKinney. Allowing homes to be built without regard to the town's history will only tarnish the appeal of the great gem that is Historic McKinney.

Thanks you for your time and consideration toward my request.

We believe it is critical that the Dowell house stand as a monument to celebrate the history of Mckinney for future generations.

What makes mckinney unique is our preserved history represented by the square, surrounding buildings, and homes. I spent 8 years living in and preserving such a home at 711 West Lamar.

There are many, many opportunities for developers to build new homes in the area, but to demolish a historic home in mckinney is a tragedy, a moral crime, and a disservice to every past, present, and future resident and visitor to our unique town.

While I respect private property and ownership, I ask you to please deny this developer permission to destroy our history.

Dear Ms. Spriegel,

I earnestly recommend that you and your department deny any rezoning request that has been made and hold him to the minimum lot sizes allowed for the size of this property, all while saving the Dowell House and the history it tells of McKinney.

We as a community do not want to turn into Dallas and see all of our history wiped away in favor of new builds. Part of what makes our downtown so special is the beautiful drive through these amazing homes that brings out every nostalgic feeling you can imagine. We chose to live here for the charm and unique preservation this town has held dear for so long. Progress for the sake of progress is not who we have ever been. We have to protect our history. Allowing a single site to be rezoned will open up doors that I can't imagine.

I hope you will consider saving our fabulous McKinney history by denying any zoning change. They knew what it was zoned when they bought it just as folks should know when they buy a lot with a field behind it that one day a gas station or strip mall will go in. They never checked there zoning!

Also...do we not have something already in place that will deny a home in the historic area a permit to be torn down unless it is a condemned property?

The history of the folks that once lived in that home is amazing. The Dowells, some of the earliest pioneers, the Bengi Movie, Al Kidwell one of our first well known artists, etc...

I have lived here my entire life. Seen lots of great changes but I really fear for the historic future of our city if we are not all "on the same page" of historic integrity and preservation. We have a beautiful historic district area that is so small in relation to our cities footprint. Once its gone it is gone.

Please save what we have.

Subject: Change for Historic Dowell House

Dear Ms. Spriegel,

I am writing with a very heavy heart at the news of a developer, J.R. Rose, seeking permission to tear down a beautiful historic home and the land surrounding it on South Tennessee St. for plans of rezoning the land to place up to 10 homes on the property. I beg you to deny his request and help save the 1870 Dowell House.

I earnestly recommend that you and your department deny any rezoning request that has been made and hold him to the minimum lot sizes allowed for the size of this property, all while saving the Dowell House and the history it tells of McKinney.

We as a community do not want to turn into Dallas and see all of our history wiped away in favor of new builds. Part of what makes our downtown so special is the beautiful drive through these amazing homes that brings out every nostalgic feeling you can imagine. We chose to live here for the charm and unique preservation this town has held dear for so long. Progress for the sake of progress is not who we have ever been. We have to protect our history. Allowing a single site to be rezoned will open up doors that I can't imagine.

Thank you for your consideration,

Subject: Requested Action Regarding 1870 Dowell House

The purpose of this email is to recommend action regarding some planned development in McKinney. I do not currently live in McKinney but I was born there, my family roots are deep in McKinney soil and I care greatly about the historical significance of the city.

My recommendation is to deny any rezoning requests made by J. R. Rose and hold him to the minimum lot size allowed for property of this size, in the end facilitating saving the Dowell House. History is so easily pushed aside but deserves the attention of all who can preserve it. You are in a position to influence any decision regarding the destruction of McKinney's history and I pray you will see the significance of your actions.

Thank you for considering my request ... and have a nice evening!

Dear Mrs Spriegel,

I'm writing because I heard about the JR Rose application for rezoning the Dowell House property. I implore you to deny the request. This home should truly be inside the historic preservation area and I will be incredibly sad for this loss. This home plays a big role in the story of McKinney, not excluding the fact that it is the Benji house! As silly as the movie is, it had academy award nominations and sparked a trend for movies centered around animals in our pop culture. It was a pivotal moment for cinema historians.

Anyway, I realize I should probably see the futility in my asking for this, but I have to hope and stay positive that the integrity of our Historic, Cultural Old Town will be preserved. I've recently bought a house near the area after longing to live near the Square since I was in high school 20 years ago. I would hate to see the neighborhood change for the worse now that it's finally getting the renewed attention that I've always known it's deserved.

I appreciate your work in helping revitalize our Historic Square and the surrounding neighborhoods. Thank you for everything you do!

All the best,

Hi Melissa,

I urge you to please protect McKinney's historic homes regardless of their registry! As more and more "vintage looking" homes are built in this area, it will become harder and harder to see the true historical fabric that makes McKinney different from those cities around us. Please consider the precedent these decisions set. Allowing this destruction to build smaller more cheaply constructed homes will only lower the value of our area as it begins a domino affect of future zoning change requests.

Please deny any rezoning in the area that changes the landscape of the heart of our city.

Thank you!!

Dear Ms Spriegel,

Please save McKinney's history.

Preserving antique homes is one of the very few ways to provide history in a community. Historic homes are a drawing card to tourism.. And I am sure you realize that means $$$$$ to the city. Who is going to come to McKinney and PAY to see 10 little, new houses squished onto tiny lots? How will these 10 little new houses HELP the city? They will only help the developer.

This historic property is the community's, not a developer's. How in the world did McKinney allow the Dowell House to not be protected from destruction? This is on McKinney.....one more strike. McKinney has missed out on many chances to be a really unique historical town. McKinney should be proactive in protecting its history. This is not about allowing a developer to make another buck. This is about preserving the past for future generations. The Dowell House is 148 years old. SAVE IT and SAVE IT NOW!

I have been inside the Dowell House and it is truly magnificent. This home instills a love of the past and inspires people to seek out more homes and buildings from that fabulous late Victorian era. McKinney has so few; it just cannot afford to loose any more of these treasures.

This is serious.

Please do not let this happen, again!

I plead with you, PLEASE SAVE THE 148 YEAR OLD DOWELL HOUSE.

Sincerely,

Mary Ottea

The historic Dowell home is unique in many ways as I'm sure you know. A home built in 1870 in north Texas that is still standing and usable is very rare.

Preserving this home or placing historic guidelines on how the developer can use the home and the lot is a perfect example of how McKinney can demonstrate its Integrity by standing behind its motto 'Unique By Nature'.

I understand the need to encourage development in the historic district but I hope that every effort will be made to ensure that its historic elements are preserved.

Dear Ms. Spriegel:

I have lived in McKinney for over 16 years, all this time down the street from the Dowell House. As you know, the land and house has been purchased by the JR Rose Development Company. They plan to tear down the house and build 10 new homes on this small lot.

I sincerely recommend that you deny any rezoning requests that have been made, and hold JR Rose to the minimum lot sizes allowed for the size of this property. I also recommend the saving of The Dowell House and the history that it has with the City of McKinney, Collin County and the State of Texas. If I am given the opportunity, I will deny placing my signature on any rezoning requests by JR Rose for this historic property.

If you wish to contact me regarding my request, my contact information is below.

Dear Ms. Spriegel,

As a longtime resident of downtown McKinney, being witness to the growth of the area and the changes, I'm asking that you and the Planning Department deny any rezoning request that has been made regarding the Dowell house and please hold the developer to the minimum lot sizes allowed for the size of this property.

The growth of the downtown area has been incredible. And the downside of that is felt by many of us who make this neighborhood our home. While I appreciate the notion that the Historic District is the jewel in the crown of McKinney, destroying the beautiful homes to make way for more housing, more people, and more cars cuts to the core of this area. While I understand the previous owners did not get the home on the historic registry, it is still a place worth saving. The course of change in downtown is taking away from its uniqueness. The imbalance of livability and tourism/profit leaves those of who call this place home out of the picture. It's getting to be too much.

Please help keep McKinney's Historic area unique and, for that matter, historic by denying this developer's request for rezoning.

Thank you

Ms. Spriegel,

I have recently heard of the possible removal or significant change that would diminish the property of the historic Dowell house on Tennessee at Graham Street. One of the things many people, residents and visitors, comment about McKinney is our historical downtown and all the beautifully preserved historic homes.

I once lived in that neighborhood, and was always comforted and knew I was home, when I would come to that amazing blue home.

Please do not allow that land or that home to be changed. As a Citizen of McKinney for 30 years, let's keep significant history. There are many decrepit homes, old businesses, and empty lots that could be used for housing development.

Thank you for your time,
Lynn-Anne Longoria

I strongly believe in the uniqueness of McKinney. Old homes should never be torn down. Old trees should not be destroyed. Lots should not be subdivided. Zoning guidelines and the Comprehensive Plan should be followed. The plan being circulated for the Dowell House violates all of these! Variances should not be given. I sure hope variances weren't promised to this guy. There is not a precedent that I remember for the variances he'll need for the plans he's circulating. Please deny this plan!
