DALLAS FORT WORTH

D/FW Retail Market Reaches Highest Occupancy in 31 Years

DALLAS - Dallas/Fort Worth's retail market ended 2015 with 91.6 percent occupancy, an increase of more than 1 percent over year-end 2015's 90.5 percent occupancy rate. The 1.1 percent improvement represents a reduction in marketwide vacant space of approximately 1.8 million square feet.

This past calendar year marks only the third time in the past decade that the market breached the important 90-percent threshold. It also marks the highest overall market occupancy in 31 years years. The 91.6 percent rate is second only to 1984, when 92 percent of the market's multi-tenant space was leased.

The occupancy gain during the past year was largely due to:

- Demand from expanding concepts, including anchors, that created high new occupancy levels for the market's existing centers;
- New space development that was primarily anchor driven with extremely limited small-shop space that was built in line with demand;
- New market entrants that expanded primarily via existing space.

The D/FW occupancy rate is based on a total market inventory of 193,016,108 square feet of retail space in shopping centers with 25,000 square feet or more – the largest retail inventory for any metro area in Texas. Weitzman/Cencor surveys 1,383 centers in 42 submarkets, of which 30 submarkets are in the Dallas-area market, and 12 submarkets are in the Fort Worth-area market.

For year-end 2015, the occupancy rate in the Dallas area was 91.2 percent, a notable improvement over year-end 2014's already healthy 90.2 percent. The rate is based on total market inventory of 134.7 million square feet in the Dallas area.

The occupancy rate in the Fort Worth area was even better: 92.4 percent, compared to 91.4 percent at year-end 2014. The rate is based on a total inventory of 58.3 million square feet.

Castle Hills Marketplace, at SH-121 and Josey in Lewisville, opened its first phase in 2015 with a 123,000 -square-foot Kroger Marketplace.

For D/FW's major shopping center categories, the survey reported the following occupancy rates:

- Community Centers – 91.7 percent (compared to 90.6 percent at year-end 2014) for an inventory of 74.6 million square feet.
 - o This category, typically anchored by a grocer, is the market's largest in terms of inventory. Community centers feature some of the strongest projects in D/FW. In addition to grocery and discounter anchors, the category features a mix of tenants designed to serve community needs.
- Neighborhood Centers – 86.6 percent (85.1 percent at year-end 2014) for an inventory of 40.7 million square feet.
 - o This category represents smaller, typically unanchored centers of 25,000 square feet to as much as 100,000 square feet. The category continues to improve after falling to an occupancy low point of 81 percent during the recession. Since that time, vacant space in neighborhood centers has dropped from 6.9 million square feet at year-end 2009 to 5.5 million square feet today.
 - o The strongest neighborhood centers in the category continue to report healthy occupancies, and 13 submarkets report neighborhood-center occupancy ranging from 90 to 100 percent.
- Power Centers – 95.2 percent (94.2 percent at year-end 2014) for an inventory of 40.8 million square feet
 - o The occupancy in this category – which features power "category killer" retailers – reported gains as existing power retailers stabilized and concepts from gyms to discounters to grocers to medical uses backfilled box vacancies. As a result, power retail – a category that suffered fast-rising vacancy during the financial crisis as many power tenants failed – is today one of the healthiest categories in Dallas/Fort Worth.
- Mixed-use – 95.4 percent (92.4 percent at year-end 2014) for an inventory of 5.2 million square feet of retail space in projects with other commercial and residential space.
 - o This category, with retail at its core, typically also features residential and office space, as well as other uses such as hotel or entertainment.
 - o This category saw occupancy jump thanks in part to the active restaurant market and the lease-up of projects that opened just as the 2007-2009 recession hit.
 - o During 2015 and moving into 2016, mixed-use is the most active non-community category, with major mixed-use projects under way or opening in markets like Plano and Frisco.
- Malls – 93.1 percent (92.7 percent at year-end 2014) for an inventory of 23.4 million square feet.
 - o This category, which includes regional and super-regional malls, saw its stable occupancy improve further thanks to junior anchors like H&M, which opened in Denton's Golden Triangle Mall, Cedar Hill's Hillside Village mall and Fort Worth's Ridgmar Mall, and expanding mall tenants like Francesca's, Torrid and other apparel retailers.

- o D/FW reports two of the 18 submarkets with malls reporting 100-percent mall occupancy; an additional 11 submarkets report occupancies well above 90 percent. Only four submarkets – Allen, Irving, Plano and Southwest Dallas – report notable vacancy, largely due to either vacant department stores or higher-than-typical small-shop vacancy.

The improvement seen in the retail market during 2015 is due to steady demand for lease space in D/FW's existing shopping centers, as evidenced by the strong absorption posted during the year. The market posted its highest absorption total since 2000, when the market absorbed 8.3 million square feet. However, that total largely represented leasing in new construction, which totaled 8.8 million square feet. It's important to note that the 2000 absorption total was 500,000 square feet less than the new-space total, which means new construction added half a million square feet of vacancy to the market.

This past year, absorption easily surpassed the 2015 construction total.

The leasing activity in 2015 helped the retail market post total absorption – defined as the net increase or decrease in occupied space – of 4,531,480 square feet: a total of 3,151,898 square feet were absorbed in the Dallas area, and 1,379,582 square feet were absorbed in the smaller Fort Worth area.

During 2015, leasing in existing centers boosted absorption by removing large vacant retail spaces from the market.

Key backfilled locations in existing centers during the year included:

- H&M, the famed fast-fashion retailer, which leased several new locations in existing space, including in the former Barnes & Noble in downtown Fort Worth, at Hillside Village in Cedar Hill and in Golden Triangle Mall in Denton;
- WinCo Foods, with approximately 85,000-square-foot stores at:
 - o The site for a former Sports Authority in Arlington's Bardin Place Shopping Center;
 - o The site of a closed Target at Centerville and LBJ and Garland;
 - o The site of a closed Kroger in Orchard Village in Lewisville.
- Total Wine & More, which leased 24,000 square feet in a junior anchor vacancy at Denton Crossing, located on Loop 288 in Denton. Kroger also expanded its store in Denton Crossing by 18,300 square feet by backfilling a site formerly filled by World Market;

H&M helped improve mall occupancy with new stores in existing space. Denton's Golden Triangle Mall location is pictured.

- Burlington Coat Factory, which leased approximately 50,000 square feet in a long-vacant Mervyns in a center adjacent to Fort Worth's Ridgmar Mall;
- UFC Gym, which backfilled a 12,962-square-foot space in Dal-Rich Towne Square, at 101 S. Coit Road in Richardson.
- The complete redevelopment of the vacant, 125,000-square-foot Saks store at The Shops at Willow Bend, an upscale mall in Plano. The project, starting in 2016, is razing the Saks store for open-air entertainment, restaurant and retail district. The mall's owner is also in the works to add an office tower and a hotel at the site, located at the Dallas North Tollway and Park Boulevard.

During 2015, the market reported new construction of 2,719,584 square feet of retail in new and expanded projects.

The 2015 annual construction, while representing an increase over the previous year's total of 2,056,926 square feet, is very conservative for a market that ranks as one of the healthiest in the country. Other than a select handful of retailers, few national concepts opened new-construction anchor stores during the year as national retailers focused on the seamless merger of their existing brick-and-mortar locations with their digital capabilities to create strong omnichannel success.

The majority of new space for 2015 was developed for retail anchors, with one store alone accounting for 20 percent of the new space added to the market during the year.

The construction, basically a blip on a market with 193 million square feet, represents only the second time since 2009 for new space to surpass the 2-million-square-foot level.

Retail space in new and expanded projects opening in 2015 included:

- Nebraska Furniture Mart, a 433-acre development with more than 560,000 square feet of retail space at SH-121 and FM 423 in The Colony. The project is sparking peripheral development such as a new 52,000-square-foot Rooms To Go;
- West Plano Village, a mixed-use project that opened in late 2015 with 90,000 square feet of retail space and 60,000 square feet of second-floor office space above the retail buildings. In addition, leading developer AMLI Residential opened 264 apartments in a four-story configuration in 2014. The first phase of West Plano Village, located at Dallas North Tollway and Parker Road, opened in September 2013 and brought online the retail component's anchor, an eatZi's Market and Bakery. Well-known national and local concepts in the project's retail space include Kona Grill, Princi Italia, Mi Dia From Scratch, Pakpao, an AT&T flagship store and others;
- Glade Parks, one of the largest non-grocery-anchored projects to come online in 2015, which opened its first phase with a mix of power retailers including Dick's Sporting Goods, Michaels, HomeGoods, Tuesday Morning, Dave & Buster's, Ulta and Boot Barn at SH-121 and Glade in Euless;
- Preston Hollow Village, the retail in a mixed-use project at US-75 and Walnut Hill Lane, with the retail featuring Trader Joe's and a number of restaurants;
- Park Lane, a mixed-use project at US-75 and Park Lane, across from NorthPark Center mall, which expanded by 37,000 square feet for a number of soft-goods concepts;

The retail will include Whole Foods Market, iPic Theaters and a number of shops and restaurants, including Torchy's Tacos and the second location for popular Uptown Dallas venue The Rustic. The first phase is slated to open in 2017;

The D/FW retail market activity, especially retail leasing demand and store growth, is boosted by the area's economy, which ranks as one of the strongest metro economies in the country. In terms of population, the D/FW metro area ranks as one of the fastest-growing in the country, adding more than 100,000 people annually.

With powerful growth expected to continue in the key areas of population, jobs and residential growth, the outlook for the D/FW retail market in 2016 is a year of steady gains to build on 2015's outstanding performance.
