Subject: Rezone Case #14-171Z2

Dear Mr. Quint:

It is my understanding that the above referenced rezoning case will be discussed at a public hearing on Tuesday, September 23, 2014. After doing some research, I am told that the developer is seeking approval to build fewer single family homes (from the currently approved town homes), in addition to having less retail space. BRAVO!

In short, I am firmly in support of the proposal to change the development from town homes to a single-family development, in addition to having less retail space in this area. The congestion in this part of McKinney will soon be a major issue, given the multiple apartment (and other) units being built and planned for, right across the street from this property.

As a tax-paying citizen, I respectfully request that you approve this change in the development plan.

Thank you in advance!

Sincerely,
Angela Sokol

Dear Mr. Quint:

I understand that the developer in the subject case is seeking approval to build fewer single family homes than the currently approved town homes development. I also understand that less retail space is also being sought.

This is a sensible proposal, and one that I support, and that everyone I have spoken to in the Saddle Club development supports.

Given that there is a massive low income apartment complex currently under construction across the street from this property, additional medium to high density construction would only exacerbate the decline in livability and value of this area.

I request that this change in the development plan be approved.

Respectfully,

Wayne Hansen

In short, I am firmly in support of the proposal to change the development from town homes to a single-family development, in addition to having less retail space in this area. The congestion in this part of McKinney is already bad enough and will continue to get worse as the other development finishes up and those that are planned for get developed - right across the street from this property.

We moved to McKinney 12 years ago due to the way that the City looked at new development and planned for what was going in where — not to over saturate an area with strip malls, etc that would just become eyesores. Apartments/Townhomes now seem to be the trend and I would like to see more open/park area developed around them. We already have a lot of open retail space that is available.

As a tax-paying citizen, I respectfully request that you approve this change in the development plan.

Thank you in advance!

Dear Mr. Quint:

It is my understanding that the above referenced rezoning case will be discussed at a public hearing on Tuesday, September 23, 2014. After doing some research, I am told that the developer is seeking approval to build fewer single family homes (from the currently approved town homes), in addition to having less commercial space. BRAVO!

In short, I am firmly in support of the proposal to change the development from town homes to a single-family development, in addition to having less retail space in this area. The congestion in this part of McKinney will soon be a major issue, given the multiple apartment (and other) units being built and planned for, right across the street from this property. Not to mention with the multiple Retail buildings all up and down El Dorado, I can't imagine the survival of these Retail locations are very good.

As a tax-paying citizen, I respectfully request that you approve this change in the development plan.

Thank you in advance!

After doing some research, I am told that the developer is seeking approval to build fewer single family homes (from the currently approved town homes), in addition to having less retail space. Finally!! McKinney's '4 corner' development planning philosophy is not working, and is making for ugly, empty commercial spaces.

In short, I am firmly in support of the proposal to change the development from town homes to a single-family development, in addition to having less retail space in this area. Subject: Rezoning Case #14-171Z2 (SE Corner Ridge & McKinney Ranch)

Dear Mr. Quint:

I understand that the above referenced rezoning case will be discussed at a public hearing on Tuesday, September 23, 2014. I will be unable to attend the meeting due to family obligations but after doing some research, I found that the developer is seeking approval to build fewer single family homes rather than the currently approved town homes. In addition they would like to plan less retail space. BRAVO! This is the family-focused neighborhood focus I would like to see!

Given the multiple apartments (and other) units being built and planned for right across the street from this property, the congestion in this part of McKinney will soon be an issue for all residents as well as a safety concern for residents, like myself, with small children. In short, I am firmly in support of the proposal to change the development from town homes to a single-family housing development with less retail space on the hard corner.

As a tax-paying citizen, I respectfully request that you approve this change in the development plan for Case #14-171Z2 with the best interest of your community at heart.
