Background

Frederic Remington Coming through the Rye is one of our most popular sculptures and despite the cost, the original size of 29" tall is our most popular size. This is another classic Remington sculpture. Here he depicts 4 horseman riding together at full gallop. The history is that these men are jubilant after returning from a long cattle drive. This is a very handsome sculpture and would look great in many settings. You can order the original size here or we have a separate listing for the smaller sizes with pictures \(click here\).
