Comments

Our April 2013 performance at the Heard-Craig House - Katie's Garden and Downtown McKinney allowed for the continued growth of the Elledanceworks-City of McKinney dance partnership. This concert marked the eighth performance for Elledanceworks in McKinney, bringing physical, dynamic and gritty modern dance to the community. The weather was perfect for our performance weekend! Elledanceworks is the dance company in residence at Collin College and we are committed to expanding our performance schedule to build dance audiences north of Dallas.

Narrative of Elledanceworks Garden Party April 2013

Elledanceworks presented an energized and interactive arts experience for the McKinney performing arts season in 2012 – 2013! Elledanceworks worked once again with the Heard-Craig to bring high quality contemporary dance to McKinney. The event, Elledanceworks Garden Party, presented a family-targeted Elledanceworks program coupled with live musical entertainment on April 26 & 27, 2013. The program began on the grounds of the MPAC and finished on the lawn of the Heard-Craig House, making creative use of the unique spaces found in downtown McKinney along the way. Audience members were encouraged to join this traveling dance presentation as it made its way from the square to the Heard-Craig House – Katie’s Garden. On the Saturday evening performance, Elledanceworks was joined by Collin Dance Ensemble, who was also a guest in our concert. Upon arriving at the Heard-Craig Lawn/Katie’s Garden, audience members were treated to an evening of contemporary dance and live music.

This program was presented to the people of McKinney free of charge. It was intended to be an event that brought community and artists together in a personal, creative and enjoyable way. The event underlines the connection between art and community; it provided a different way to see familiar spaces, and gave the community direct access to working artists and involvement in the art-making process. With this format, we made live performing art appealing to some that may feel put off by a more formal concert setting, and created a fun and welcoming environment for those that seek the performance and those who are swept into the event by curiosity! And there were several, by the way!

Elledanceworks continues its commitment to developing a relationship with McKinney and looks forward to future projects here and throughout our new Collin County home.

Concert information as follows:

Location: On the Square in McKinney - traveling to various McKinney locations - finishing at Heard-Craig House Lawn

Date: April 26-27, 2013

Admission fees: Free of Charge

Elledanceworks evaluated the success of the concert through public tools such as reviews and attendance, as well as through the company’s practice of providing a means for individual audience members to give written feedback.
