Using the outline below, provide a written narrative no longer than 7 pages in length:

I. Applying Organization

Describe the mission, strategic goals and objectives, scope of services, day to day operations and number of paid staff and volunteers.

Heard Natural Science Museum & Wildlife Sanctuary's mission is to bring nature and people together to discover, enjoy, experience, restore, and preserve our priceless environment. The Heard accomplishes this objective through providing a variety of exceptional educational programs, exhibits and other attractions for the local McKinney community and tourists from around the world.

The Heard's goal is to continually seek opportunities to serve a more extensive segment of the local community as well as foster broader tourism in McKinney. The Heard staff continually works to both engage visitors in our existing offerings as well as offer new programs that accentuate and augment our primary assets—the museum and the 289-acre nature preserve.

The scope of our services covers a broad array of activities. The Heard offers educational programming such as guided trails, summer camps, preschool and homeschool natural science programs, natural science talks and workshops, field trips, outreach programs and more. We also offer facility rentals, which facilitates opportunities for customers to host large groups such as wedding parties (with out of town guests who require lodging) and business conventions.

The Heard currently employs 11 fulltime staff and 19 part-time staff.

Additionally, as a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, the Heard also utilizes the services of up to 150 volunteers each year.

Significant Organizational Changes

The Heard plans to completely update its website from scratch to design a new site that will not only be visually stunning but also get strategic results for the museum.

II. Tourism-Related Events or project

 Outline details of the Project/Promotional/Community Event for which funds are requested. Include information regarding scope, goals, objectives, target audience.

How Initiative Promotes City of McKinney Tourism

Heard Natural Science Museum & Wildlife Sanctuary is one of the premier tourist attractions in McKinney. As a primary source of advertising and promotional efforts used to attract tourists and convention delegates to the Heard, our website and its improvement is crucial to driving further conversions.

How Project fulfills Heard Strategic Goals and Objectives

The Heard Natural Science Museum & Wildlife Sanctuary exists to bring nature and people together. Because of this mission and the Heard's status as one of McKinney's premier tourism destinations, the collaboration between our mission and with bringing visitors and tourists to McKinney to spend more time in the community go hand and hand.

In today's environment of information sources available to potential visitors, it becomes increasingly important to make sure that our website aligns with the heuristics and algorithms that the search engines establish to designate which websites the search engine deems to be a relevant resource (or not). Following the rules they establish helps to ensure that our page will be among the first options to make it to the eyes of the person searching the internet for information when they are making tourism choices.

Search engines (particularly Google, which holds a major market share) place emphasis on pages with faster load times. New website coding and architecture is continually being developed to enhance load times. The current version of the Heard website was designed at a time when load times had less bearing on our status within search results.

To stay relevant, not only in the perception of the search engines but also to site visitors, and continue to draw more tourists to McKinney, we must enhance our coding to meet these best-practices from a technical and strategic content perspective. Google estimates that, on average, half of site visits (to any website) are abandoned if a mobile site takes longer than three seconds to load. Currently, Google estimates that, on average, our website takes 5 seconds to load and that, as a result, we are experiencing a 19% visitor loss.

As a result, the Heard is in the process of redesigning the website from a mobile-first perspective to align with the needs of today's on-the-go tourist. New research on consumer behavior and phone usage will be applied to increase the intuitive nature of the navigation, making it easier for tourists to quickly find the information they need to make a purchase decision. The new design will also focus on gaining conversions. Our goal is to convert website users into on-site visitors (by encouraging them to purchase admission to exhibits, educational programming and events as well as allowing them to obtain critical information such as directions to McKinney and our hours of operation). The new site will also be all the more visually stunning, more fully emphasizing the asset that the Heard is to the community and how it reflects upon our area. The overall project will allow us to continue to market and highlight McKinney as a unique destination for residents and visitors alike.

Planned Activities

We will continue to assess the areas where our current website has strengths and can use improvement (beyond the underlying coding). We will then establish the nature of the functional requirements, information architecture and deliverables. We will then map a plan of the Heard's key content and conversion points. A new content management system will be tailored to fit these developing needs. Content will then be loaded into the new management system. Where needed, new content will be developed. Once the site has been developed, we will go through a phase of quality assurance to verify performance. Once the website is in a completed state, it will be launched.

Project Time Frame/Schedule

The website update project will begin upon the successful completion of funding of this project. Currently funding has been provided by $20,000 budgeted funds and $20,000 anticipated grants and only $5,000 remains to be funded. Once the project begins, based on previous website development projects, it should take approximately two to four months from the start date to the launch date to complete all of the planned activities listed above.

Estimated Attendance

The Heard annually welcomes over 90,000 visitors each year. Given Google's current estimate that that the Heard loses approximately 19% of its website visitors due to slow site load (and the corresponding conversions), we expect to experience at least a 10% increase in visitorship across the board (with regards to general admissions, participation in educational programs and more). This translates to an increase of approximately 9,000 visitors per year.

Goals for Growth/Expansion Future and Informed Financial Planning

As mentioned previously, technologies to enhance visitor conversion will more than likely continue to develop and change. We will use this as a learning opportunity for future procedural operations. We will now set aside funding in future and actively seek funding to regularly make appropriate and relevant changes to our website to continue its relevance as a promotional and advertising tool for the Heard and McKinney tourism at large. Additionally, we will continue to set aside funding and seek funding to address long-term known costs such as hosting and scheduled maintenance. While these funds will ultimately come from general revenue as well as grants and sponsorships, the budget consequences will overall continue to have a positive net effect. As having a website is crucial for almost any successful organization in today's business climate, the sustainability of this project will be driven by its prime importance for our organizational success.

Internal Efficiencies

Because of our marketing and communications director's basic knowledge of website content management systems, maintenance and graphic design skills, much of the ongoing maintenance and development of the website can be conducted in-house. This will mean less of the work will need to be outsourced to private contractors. Moreover, as she has an academic background in both experiential marketing strategy and business development, she will be able to analyze the results of our efforts to see where our strengths lie and where improvements can be made based on data collected by analytics platforms.
