 - All proposed lots situated in whole or in part within the City's corporate limits comply with the minimum size requirements of the governing zoning district and requirements of the subdivision ordinance.
 - A conveyance plat is a map of property approved by the city for the purpose of sale or conveyance in its entirety or interests thereon defined. Lots created by a conveyance plat may not have all necessary public utilities available for immediate use. No certificate of occupancy shall be issued nor permanent public utility service provided to any lot(s) created by a conveyance plat until all required public improvements have been constructed and accepted and a record plat is filed for record with the county clerk. Selling a portion of property by metes and bounds, except as shown on an approved, filed and accepted conveyance plat, record plat, minor plat or minor replat is a violation of the city's Code of Ordinances and State Law.
 - The owners and any subsequent owners of Block B, Lot 1, of this plat hereby grant permission to the owners and any subsequent owners of Block B, Lot 1, of this plat to enter upon their property for the purpose of constructing public infrastructure and other improvements. Permission shall be limited to a reasonable width for construction activities adjacent to dedicated easements.
 - The owners of Block B, Lot 1 of this plat shall be solely responsible for the maintenance of the private storm water detention system. The owner shall further hold the City of McKinney harmless from any damages to persons, to the owner's lot or any affected lot arising from such maintenance responsibility. The City shall not be responsible for the maintenance of the referenced system, although it retains the right to enter upon the easement for public purposes.
 - Minimum maintenance requirements for detention facilities can be found on the Post Construction Stormwater Quality Plan sheet as part of the civil construction plans.
