

The Vintage Piano Hour with Tony Stride

Tony Stride aka Anthony Nagid is a native Dallasite who attended RISD schools and graduated from Lake Highlands High School in 2006 (more about education on resume). Anthony has lived in McKinney since 2011, he and his partner Marina Gwynn are proud Historic Downtown property owners at 201 West Davis Street where they teach Piano, Dance, Yoga and are established music entertainers at many McKinney venues.

The Vintage Piano Hour with Tony Stride is an entertaining showcase of 19th and 20th century American Piano music outside of academia for regular 21st century audiences. This project began as the Parlor Piano Hour in 2015 and has celebrated two seasons of live performances and CD releases in McKinney. To date all efforts have been personally funded, recorded, designed, marketed, performed and all around produced by Anthony Nagid.

This grant will help to produce a Fourth season, of the Vintage Piano Hour. Between August and November there will be one show a month at McKinney venues, Filtered Coffee Shop. We are proud to partner for the first time with The Heard-Craig Center for the Arts who will host this season's featured show, as well as the Collin County History Museum.
