I.a. Mission

MillHouse Foundation is a 501(c)(3) tax exempt nonprofit corporation established in January of 2019 to promote small business women in creative fields. Our mission is for women to flourish by providing opportunities to showcase their work and enhance income opportunities.

I.b. Strategic Goal

Our goal as an organization is to provide opportunities for micro-business owners to not only grow skills, but showcase and sell their work, providing economic stability for their families and the surrounding community. Our focus is women, but all are invited to participate in our festivals and events.

I.d. Scope of Services

1) Talent Showcase: Community-focused festivals and events to showcase products and offer enhanced revenue opportunities to participants by increasing visibility and sales, attracting new customers, and enhancing creative collaboration. Programs include art and artisan festivals and events.

2) Spotlight: Showcase work through gallery exhibits, public art, and media promotion. Enable participants to share insights, ideas and expertise, build meaningful connections, allow participants to sell their work. Programs include gallery exhibitions, public art murals and open studio tours.

3) Collaboration: Grow creative impact through collaborative projects and activities. Programs include the Texas Art and Music Guild's McKinney Art Studio Tour, City-sponsored Arts in Bloom art demonstrations, and artist-led group collaborations.

I.e. Staff and Volunteers

MillHouse Foundation Staff: Beth Beck, PhD, Executive Director, Volunteer; Dana Brock, Art Director, Consultant; Aimee Woolverton, Creative Services, Consultant
Volunteers: Gail Delger, Lisa Temple, Andrea Holmes, Valerie Batchelder, Lisa Moore, Celeste Seitz, Robin Pedrero, Alli Koch

I.f. Successes

We've hosted eight multi-day fine art festivals at the McKinney Cotton Mill since 2019: August 2019, February 2020, February 2021, August 2021, February 2022, August 2022, February 2023, August 2023. We expanded ArtFest in 2023 to include the Atrium Hallway at the McKinney Cotton Mill.

For artisans, we've hosted three two-day outdoor Makers Markets in 2020 at a time when all festivals were canceled. We reinstated Makers Market in 2023 with one-day indoor events in July, September, December in the Atrium Hallway. Each festival and market was at capacity.

For muralists and musicians, we've hosted two-day outdoor mural festivals on the south lawn of the Cotton Mill in 2022 and 2023. The first event included a celebrated cellist performing on the Friday evening VIP reception and a solo guitarist throughout the festival weekend. This summer, the second MuralFest featured a full sound stage lineup with solo performers, trios, and full bands on stage in the Tupps facility adjacent to the festival grounds. We've hosted 27 artists over the last two years to paint permanent exterior murals on the Cotton Mill facility. In addition, we hosted ten mobile muralists who painted 48x60 in canvases, which were auctioned to the public. We are planning to expand MuralFest in 2024.

I.g. Contribution to community

We believe the creative micro-business owners in the community, who participate in MillHouse events, help fuel our local economy. As their income-potential rises, so does the community as they invest their well-earned dollars at the local grocery stores, gas stations, restaurants, schools, and other local establishments.

We invite local, regional, and international creatives to engage and participate in MillHouse programs, with the intention of building and sustaining a vibrant, creative, prosperous community atmosphere to attract new visitors, residents, businesses, artisans, and foodies to the historic Cotton Mill Arts District.

We also offer the community an opportunity to come meet artists, makers, and muralists at each of our events, including our participation in the McKinney Art Studio Tour and artist demos at the City's Arts in Bloom festival. In addition, families and friends can enjoy our outdoor mural festival with food, music, and activities for the kids.

MuralFest began in 2022 and was repeated in 2023.
How will the event showcase McKinney for tourism and / or business development?	At MillHouse, we're in the business of micro-business development. MillHouse festivals and events enable local and regional creatives, who own an impressive range of sole proprietor businesses, to earn income and grow their client base. MillHouse generates local economic impact by keeping the sales and tourism tax dollars local; and contributes to McKinney's reputation as a cultural destination. McKinney Community Development Corporation cell phone data indicates that 70% of our festival attendees come from outside McKinney and visit McKinney establishments downtown both before and after they attend MillHouse events.

We have a successful history of well-attended events, with close to 12,000 participants over the previous thirteen events. Many are repeat visitors who are drawn to our unique venue in a gateway historic McKinney property, The Cotton Mill, on Highway 5 at the entry to the east McKinney redevelopment zone. Because of the quality and diversity of art at our festivals, corporate executives, interior designers, and other businesses represent some of the patrons who attend and buy.

We promote our art and mural festivals as two-day destinations where attendees can "come and go" throughout the weekend, mingled with visits to local shops, restaurants, historic buildings, and the many outdoor parks that McKinney has to offer. MillHouse festivals, markets and events help promote the City of McKinney as a cultural arts destination for weekend travelers.

Location(s) of event(s)	McKinney Cotton Mill

Provide a detailed narrative of the event(s) including mission, goals, activities, schedule, production	MillHouse festivals are large-scale arts events focused on providing an engaging space for the community to interact with artists in one of the 65+ booths that are a part of these indoor and outdoor events. to 34 vendors to each event. MuralFest invites the community to enjoy muralists painting murals at the Cotton Mill over the weekend, with a full line of musicians performing. Each festival and event offers us the opportunity to showcase the historic Cotton Mill in McKinney.

Mission/Goals/Expansion

The mission and goals for these activities are the same as for the organization as a whole. We're expanding the number of Makers Markets from three in 2023 to nine in 2024, and the MuralFest event from a two-day festival to a four-day event for the participating muralists, including mural mentor sessions with MillHouse studio artist Alli Koch of Alli K Designs. MuralFest will continue as a two-day festival with a full music stage line-up, following the two-day head start the muralists have on the large exterior murals. In addition, we're erecting a large temporary wall on the south Cotton Mill lawn for up to ten muralists.

Production schedule

Our production timeline is year-round. For each ArtFest in Winter and Summer, we discuss needed changes or updates to be implemented then open applications for the next ArtFest. We begin social media posts 60-90 days in advance of each event. Makers Markets are on a quicker cadence for planning and social media and require social media posts 45 days in advance, if possible. We opened applications in October for the 2024 season. We start planning each MuralFest immediately following the lessons learned session with the team after the event, and plan for the following Summer. We open applications in January for the June event.

Marketing Plan - 2024

Mission, values, and vision

MillHouse Foundation is a 501(c)(3) tax exempt nonprofit corporation created to promote female artists and entrepreneurs through meaningful connections, social and educational activities, and access to shared resources to create social, creative, and economic impact in the local community. The organization believes that when women flourish, so do their families and extended communities. MillHouse Foundation partners with her sister organization, MillHouse McKinney, to provide female artists and creatives access to private and open studios, co-working and social space, workshops and classes, and member resources; while focusing efforts on program priorities.

MillHouse Foundation's top program priorities are:

- 1) Talent Showcase - community-based festivals, markets, and events to offer enhanced revenue opportunities for local and regional creatives by increasing visibility and sales, and attracting new customers;
- 2) Art/Product Spotlights: opportunities to highlight creative work through Gallery exhibits, Public Art, and social media promotions; and
- 3) Collaborative projects to elevate creative expression working with McKinney creatives and organizations.

Each of these priorities offer creative, entrepreneurial women the opportunity to learn, grow, collaborate, and showcase their ideas, products, and services.

Our core beliefs are centered on the following guiding principles:

- 1) Every woman is an entrepreneur at heart, awaiting encouragement, guidance, and resources to awaken and flourish.
- 2) Contributions by small business women deserve elevation, recognition, and resources.
- 3) Women, as artists and entrepreneurs, create economic impact with social benefits

Marketing Goals and Objectives

1. Increase Event Attendance

Boost festival/event attendance during 2024. We will do this by increasing our ads in Community Impact. In previous years, we ran ads only the month before each event. In 2024 we plan to run ads every month, therefore increasing brand awareness and ultimately event attendance. In addition, we will continue with targeted social media ads.

2. Boost Social Media Engagement

Increase the social media engagement for MillHouse festivals/events in 2024 adding more video content.

3. Enhance Sponsor Relations

Secure sponsorships by leveraging volunteers specifically tasked with reaching out to potential event sponsors.

4. Increase Search Engine Ranking

By the end of the year, we want to increase our search results page position for our main brand-related keywords to drive more organic traffic. Currently MillHouse Foundation ranks 4th in McKinney searches on Google for McKinney Art Festivals. Our goal is to increase this by one spot in 2024. Additionally, we would like to rank on the first page of Google searches for art festivals in the Dallas area. We will do this by adding more specific key words on our website and social media posts.

The team

- Aimee Woolverton, Creative Services Director creates social media content and posts for all festivals and events, as well as directing social media and print advertising.
- Beth Beck, PhD creates social media for MillHouse Foundation brand awareness
- Celeste Seitz works to secure sponsorship partners for festivals and events.

Target audience persona(s)

1. Art patrons from state and beyond with disposable income - typically between the ages of 30-60
2. Regional artists and creatives
3. Citizens looking for family friendly activities

Arts and Music Guild

Nonprofit acts as umbrella for creative programs in McKinney

BY COLBY FARR

The Cove, an art studio located at 402 Tennessee St. in downtown McKinney, offers one piece of the picture that makes up the community's Arts and Music Guild.

Several other programs operate under the nonprofit organization's umbrella, including McKinney Art Studio Tour, McKinney Plein Air Society and Summer Music Intensives. The guild is operated and maintained by volunteers, including its co-founder and Director Annie Royer.

"This is all volunteer [work]," Royer said. "There's no paid staff at the guild."

A group of artists met initially at artist Leo Malboeuf and his wife's house in 2010 to discuss how a new arts nonprofit could benefit the community. Royer and co-founder J.C. Tobey worked on the legalities of building the organization, and board members were chosen for experience in nonprofit management.

The guild received its 501c-3 status in 2011.

"The whole idea was that [the guild] is an umbrella organization for good ideas and programs," Royer said.

Those programs start organically based on the interests and needs of artists. Each program has its own leadership, committee and budget. Under the guild board's guidance, each program can develop with independence and flexibility.

Each program also has its own funding source. "There's no membership dues," Royer said. "There used to be, but no more. Instead, each program has some fees to participate."

The guild tries to pay its artists for the work they do while offering as many inexpensive opportunities as possible for creative people to get their work in front of the public, Royer said. For example, artists can pay to have a solo show at The Cove, which hosts about 40 shows a year.

Before The Cove, Royer said there wasn't a place in McKinney for artists and musicians to hang out and share ideas. The venue features a seating area for people to gather during shows.

When people ask how they can get involved with The Cove, she tells them there's usually a waitlist to have art displayed, but a big part of being a guild member is being part of the community, she said.

"Until we find a spot for you on the wall, why don't you just come hang out and get to know us?" Royer said.

McKinney City Council looking at strategies to help mitigate housing costs for east side

BY SHELBE HAMILTON

McKinney City Council is considering solutions to protect east side residents from rising housing costs.

Council received a report on the Neighborhood Preservation Study initiative during a winter work session. The initiative began in early 2021 to address concerns of rising housing costs due to surrounding development projects in the city's five historic east side neighborhoods: La Loma-Lively Hill, Lewisville, Mouszon-Central, Rockwall and Wilcox.

The study, conducted by independent consultants Economic & Planning Systems, evaluated relevant information, such as ownership data, the condition of residential and commercial properties in the area, average home sale price, and more. The study concluded the roughly 3,500 residents of the affected neighborhoods are particularly vulnerable to displacement when compared to the rest of McKinney. About 56% of surveyed residents also indicated they intend to remain in their home for 10 or more years, according to the report.

"The Neighborhood Preservation Study came about in an effort to make sure that the residents that wanted to remain in their homes were able to do so," said Janay Tiekem, director of the housing and community development department.

The report also noted east side residents are more diverse, have significantly lower median household incomes and are growing as a population at a slower rate than the rest of the city. The affected neighborhoods have also seen a significant increase in the median home sale price since 2010, according to the report.

The report included feedback collected from 173 east side residents who indicated they are facing financial challenges and are interested in financial assistance programs for things, such as home repairs, down payments, utility payments and more, according to the report.

The presentation given to council at the meeting by representatives of Economic & Planning Systems outlined various strategies, policies and tools that could be implemented to help mitigate the impact of development on east side residents. Proposed solutions include implementing a community land trust, creating or expanding an existing tax increment reinvestment zone, and bolstering the city's housing rehabilitation program. These tools target costs incurred by property taxes, house repairs and more, and are intended to provide financial relief.

Council members expressed concerns regarding the use of a community land trust, citing potential issues in implementing the tool for homes being rented out or being passed through generations of family members. Council Member Geri Feltus noted her desire for this strategy to retain home ownership for residents passing their property to the next generation.

"One of the best ways to increase generational wealth is to pass on home ownership, so I would like to see us really reach for that better as we're creating these policies," Feltus said.

Council also noted concern about how to protect residents who are renting their east side homes. About 60% of residents in the affected neighborhoods rent their homes, according to the report. Various council members expressed interest in learning more about how the tools would protect renters and home occupants, as opposed to the landlord.

"My advocacy has always been for protecting residents that live there now and allowing them to be able to remain there without the cost of rising values to push them out," Mayor George Fuller said.

The City Council gave direction at a January work session indicating their support for expanding the existing tax increment reinvestment zone, pursuing a clear title program and creating an accessory dwelling unit loan program, according to city documents. A finalized neighborhood preservation plan is expected to be presented to the council.

Dear Applicant:

We're pleased to tell you we determined you're exempt from federal income tax under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 501(c)(3). Donors can deduct contributions they make to you under IRC Section 170. You're also qualified to receive tax deductible bequests, devises, transfers or gifts under Section 2055, 2106, or 2522. This letter could help resolve questions on your exempt status. Please keep it for your records.

Organizations exempt under IRC Section 501(c)(3) are further classified as either public charities or private foundations. We determined you're a public charity under the IRC Section listed at the top of this letter.

If we indicated at the top of this letter that you're required to file Form 990/990-EZ/990-N, our records show you're required to file an annual information return (Form 990 or Form 990-EZ) or electronic notice (Form 990-N, the e-Postcard). If you don't file a required return or notice for three consecutive years, your exempt status will be automatically revoked.

If we indicated at the top of this letter that an addendum applies, the enclosed addendum is an integral part of this letter.

For important information about your responsibilities as a tax-exempt organization, go to www.irs.gov/charities. Enter "4221-PC" in the search bar to view Publication 4221-PC, Compliance Guide for 501(c)(3) Public Charities, which describes your recordkeeping, reporting, and disclosure requirements.

Purpose of Form

An individual or entity (Form W-9 requester) who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) which may be your social security number (SSN), individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN), adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or employer identification number (EIN), to report on an information return the amount paid to you, or other amount reportable on an information return. Examples of information returns include, but are not limited to, the following.

- Form 1099-INT (interest earned or paid)

- Form 1099-DIV (dividends, including those from stocks or mutual funds)
 - Form 1099-MISC (various types of income, prizes, awards, or gross proceeds)
 - Form 1099-B (stock or mutual fund sales and certain other transactions by brokers)
 - Form 1099-S (proceeds from real estate transactions)
 - Form 1099-K (merchant card and third party network transactions)
 - Form 1098 (home mortgage interest), 1098-E (student loan interest), 1098-T (tuition)
 - Form 1099-C (canceled debt)
 - Form 1099-A (acquisition or abandonment of secured property)
- Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN.
- If you do not return Form W-9 to the requester with a TIN, you might be subject to backup withholding. See What is backup withholding, later.*

By signing the filled-out form, you:

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income, and
4. Certify that FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that you are exempt from the FATCA reporting, is correct. See What is FATCA reporting, later, for further information.

Note: If you are a U.S. person and a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

- An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien;
- A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States;
- An estate (other than a foreign estate); or
- A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay a withholding tax under section 1446 on any foreign partners' share of effectively connected taxable income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, the rules under section 1446 require a partnership to presume that a partner is a foreign person, and pay the section 1446 withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid section 1446 withholding on your share of partnership income.

In the cases below, the following person must give Form W-9 to the partnership for purposes of establishing its U.S. status and avoiding withholding on its allocable share of net income from the partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States.

- In the case of a disregarded entity with a U.S. owner, the U.S. owner of the disregarded entity and not the entity;
- In the case of a grantor trust with a U.S. grantor or other U.S. owner, generally, the U.S. grantor or other U.S. owner of the grantor trust and not the trust; and
- In the case of a U.S. trust (other than a grantor trust), the U.S. trust (other than a grantor trust) and not the beneficiaries of the trust.

Foreign person. If you are a foreign person or the U.S. branch of a foreign bank that has elected to be treated as a U.S. person, do not use Form W-9. Instead, use the appropriate Form W-8 or Form 8233 (see Pub. 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Entities).

Nonresident alien who becomes a resident alien. Generally, only a nonresident alien individual may use the terms of a tax treaty to reduce or eliminate U.S. tax on certain types of income. However, most tax treaties contain a provision known as a "saving clause." Exceptions specified in the saving clause may permit an exemption from tax to continue for certain types of income even after the payee has otherwise become a U.S. resident alien for tax purposes.

If you are a U.S. resident alien who is relying on an exception contained in the saving clause of a tax treaty to claim an exemption from U.S. tax on certain types of income, you must attach a statement to Form W-9 that specifies the following five items.

1. The treaty country. Generally, this must be the same treaty under which you claimed exemption from tax as a nonresident alien.
2. The treaty article addressing the income.
3. The article number (or location) in the tax treaty that contains the saving clause and its exceptions.
4. The type and amount of income that qualifies for the exemption from tax.
5. Sufficient facts to justify the exemption from tax under the terms of the treaty article.

Example. Article 20 of the U.S.-China income tax treaty allows an exemption from tax for scholarship income received by a Chinese student temporarily present in the United States. Under U.S. law, this student will become a resident alien for tax purposes if his or her stay in the United States exceeds 5 calendar years. However, paragraph 2 of the first Protocol to the U.S.-China treaty (dated April 30, 1984) allows the provisions of Article 20 to continue to apply even after the Chinese student becomes a resident alien of the United States. A Chinese student who qualifies for this exception (under paragraph 2 of the first protocol) and is relying on this exception to claim an exemption from tax on his or her scholarship or fellowship income would attach to Form W-9 a statement that includes the information described above to support that exemption.

If you are a nonresident alien or a foreign entity, give the requester the appropriate completed Form W-8 or Form 8233.

Backup Withholding

What is backup withholding? Persons making certain payments to you must under certain conditions withhold and pay to the IRS 24% of such payments. This is called "backup withholding." Payments that may be subject to backup withholding include interest, tax-exempt interest, dividends, broker and barter exchange transactions, rents, royalties, nonemployee pay, payments made in settlement of payment card and third party network transactions, and certain payments from fishing boat operators. Real estate transactions are not subject to backup withholding.

You will not be subject to backup withholding on payments you receive if you give the requester your correct TIN, make the proper certifications, and report all your taxable interest and dividends on your tax return.

Payments you receive will be subject to backup withholding if:

1. You do not furnish your TIN to the requester,
2. You do not certify your TIN when required (see the instructions for Part II for details),
3. The IRS tells the requester that you furnished an incorrect TIN,
4. The IRS tells you that you are subject to backup withholding because you did not report all your interest and dividends on your tax return (for reportable interest and dividends only), or
5. You do not certify to the requester that you are not subject to backup withholding under 4 above (for reportable interest and dividend accounts opened after 1983 only).

Certain payees and payments are exempt from backup withholding. See Exempt payee code, later, and the separate Instructions for the Requester of Form W-9 for more information.

Also see Special rules for partnerships, earlier.

What is FATCA Reporting?

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) requires a participating foreign financial institution to report all United States account holders that are specified United States persons. Certain payees are exempt from FATCA reporting. See Exemption from FATCA reporting code, later, and the Instructions for the Requester of Form W-9 for more information.

Updating Your Information

You must provide updated information to any person to whom you claimed to be an exempt payee if you are no longer an exempt payee and anticipate receiving reportable payments in the future from this person. For example, you may need to provide updated information if you are a C corporation that elects to be an S corporation, or if you no longer are tax exempt. In addition, you must furnish a new Form W-9 if the name or TIN changes for the account; for example, if the grantor of a grantor trust dies.

Penalties

Failure to furnish TIN. If you fail to furnish your correct TIN to a requester, you are subject to a penalty of $50 for each such failure unless your failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

Civil penalty for false information with respect to withholding. If you make a false statement with no reasonable basis that results in no backup withholding, you are subject to a $500 penalty.

Criminal penalty for falsifying information. Willfully falsifying certifications or affirmations may subject you to criminal penalties including fines and/or imprisonment.

Misuse of TINs. If the requester discloses or uses TINs in violation of federal law, the requester may be subject to civil and criminal penalties.

Specific Instructions

Line 1

You must enter one of the following on this line; do not leave this line blank. The name should match the name on your tax return.

If this Form W-9 is for a joint account (other than an account maintained by a foreign financial institution (FFI)), list first, and then circle, the name of the person or entity whose number you entered in Part I of Form W-9. If you are providing Form W-9 to an FFI to document a joint account, each holder of the account that is a U.S. person must provide a Form W-9.

a. Individual. Generally, enter the name shown on your tax return. If you have changed your last name without informing the Social Security Administration (SSA) of the name change, enter your first name, the last name as shown on your social security card, and your new last name.

Note: ITIN applicant: Enter your individual name as it was entered on your Form W-7 application, line 1a. This should also be the same as the name you entered on the Form 1040/1040A/1040EZ you filed with your application.

b. Sole proprietor or single-member LLC. Enter your individual name as shown on your 1040/1040A/1040EZ on line 1. You may enter your business, trade, or "doing business as" (DBA) name on line 2.

c. Partnership, LLC that is not a single-member LLC, C corporation, or S corporation. Enter the entity's name as shown on the entity's tax return on line 1 and any business, trade, or DBA name on line 2.

d. Other entities. Enter your name as shown on required U.S. federal tax documents on line 1. This name should match the name shown on the charter or other legal document creating the entity. You may enter any business, trade, or DBA name on line 2.

e. Disregarded entity. For U.S. federal tax purposes, an entity that is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner is treated as a "disregarded entity." See Regulations section 301.7701-2(c)(2)(iii). Enter the owner's name on line 1. The name of the entity entered on line 1 should never be a disregarded entity. The name on line 1 should be the name shown on the income tax return on which the income should be reported. For example, if a foreign LLC that is treated as a disregarded entity for U.S. federal tax purposes has a single owner that is a U.S. person, the U.S. owner's name is required to be provided on line 1. If the direct owner of the entity is also a disregarded entity, enter the first owner that is not disregarded for federal tax purposes. Enter the disregarded entity's name on line 2, "Business name/disregarded entity name." If the owner of the disregarded entity is a foreign person, the owner must complete an appropriate Form W-8 instead of a Form W-9. This is the case even if the foreign person has a U.S. TIN.

Line 2

If you have a business name, trade name, DBA name, or disregarded entity name, you may enter it on line 2.

Line 3

Check the appropriate box on line 3 for the U.S. federal tax classification of the person whose name is entered on line 1. Check only one box on line 3.

Consult with the person requesting this form if you are uncertain if the financial institution is subject to these requirements. A requester may indicate that a code is not required by providing you with a Form W-9 with "Not Applicable" (or any similar indication) written or printed on the line for a FATCA exemption code.

Line 5

Enter your address (number, street, and apartment or suite number). This is where the requester of this Form W-9 will mail your information returns. If this address differs from the one the requester already has on file, write NEW at the top. If a new address is provided, there is still a chance the old address will be used until the payor changes your address in their records.

Line 6

Enter your city, state, and ZIP code.

Part I. Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. If you are a resident alien and you do not have and are not eligible to get an SSN, your TIN is your IRS individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). Enter it in the social security number box. If you do not have an ITIN, see How to get a TIN below.

If you are a sole proprietor and you have an EIN, you may enter either your SSN or EIN.

If you are a single-member LLC that is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner, enter the owner's SSN (or EIN, if the owner has one). Do not enter the disregarded entity's EIN. If the LLC is classified as a corporation or partnership, enter the entity's EIN.

Note: See What Name and Number To Give the Requester, later, for further clarification of name and TIN combinations.

How to get a TIN. If you do not have a TIN, apply for one immediately. To apply for an SSN, get Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card, from your local SSA office or get this form online at www.SSA.gov. You may also get this form by calling 1-800-772-1213. Use Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number, to apply for an ITIN, or Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number, to apply for an EIN. You can apply for an EIN online by accessing the IRS website at www.irs.gov/Businesses and clicking on Employer Identification Number (EIN) under Starting a Business. Go to www.irs.gov/Forms to view, download, or print Form W-7 and/or Form SS-4. Or, you can go to www.irs.gov/OrderForms to place an order and have Form W-7 and/or SS-4 mailed to you within 10 business days.

If you are asked to complete Form W-9 but do not have a TIN, apply for a TIN and write "Applied For" in the space for the TIN, sign and date the form, and give it to the requester. For interest and dividend payments, and certain payments made with respect to readily tradable instruments, generally you will have 60 days to get a TIN and give it to the requester before you are subject to backup withholding on payments. The 60-day rule does not apply to other types of payments. You will be subject to backup withholding on all such payments until you provide your TIN to the requester.

Note: Entering "Applied For" means that you have already applied for a TIN or that you intend to apply for one soon.

Caution: A disregarded U.S. entity that has a foreign owner must use the appropriate Form W-8.

Part II. Certification

To establish to the withholding agent that you are a U.S. person, or resident alien, sign Form W-9. You may be requested to sign by the withholding agent even if item 1, 4, or 5 below indicates otherwise.

For a joint account, only the person whose TIN is shown in Part I should sign (when required). In the case of a disregarded entity, the person identified on line 1 must sign. Exempt payees, see Exempt payee code, earlier.

Signature requirements. Complete the certification as indicated in items 1 through 5 below.

1. Interest, dividend, and barter exchange accounts opened before 1984 and broker accounts considered active during 1983. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification.

2. Interest, dividend, broker, and barter exchange accounts opened after 1983 and broker accounts considered inactive during 1983. You must sign the certification or backup withholding will apply. If you are subject to backup withholding and you are merely providing your correct TIN to the requester, you must cross out item 2 in the certification before signing the form.

3. Real estate transactions. You must sign the certification. You may cross out item 2 of the certification.

4. Other payments. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification unless you have been notified that you have previously given an incorrect TIN. "Other payments" include payments made in the course of the requester's trade or business for rents, royalties, goods (other than bills for merchandise), medical and health care services (including payments to corporations), payments to a nonemployee for services, payments made in settlement of payment card and third party network transactions, payments to certain fishing boat crew members and fishermen, and gross proceeds paid to attorneys (including payments to corporations).

5. Mortgage interest paid by you, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, qualified tuition program payments (under section 529), ABLE accounts (under section 529A), IRA, Coverdell ESA, Archer MSA or HSA contributions or distributions, and pension distributions. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification.

Secure Your Tax Records From Identity Theft

Identity theft occurs when someone uses your personal information such as your name, SSN, or other identifying information, without your permission, to commit fraud or other crimes. An identity thief may use your SSN to get a job or may file a tax return using your SSN to receive a refund.

To reduce your risk:

- Protect your SSN,
- Ensure your employer is protecting your SSN, and
- Be careful when choosing a tax preparer.

If your tax records are affected by identity theft and you receive a notice from the IRS, respond right away to the name and phone number printed on the IRS notice or letter.

If your tax records are not currently affected by identity theft but you think you are at risk due to a lost or stolen purse or wallet, questionable credit card activity or credit report, contact the IRS Identity Theft Hotline at 1-800-908-4490 or submit Form 14039.

For more information, see Pub. 5027, Identity Theft Information for Taxpayers.

Victims of identity theft who are experiencing economic harm or a systemic problem, or are seeking help in resolving tax problems that have not been resolved through normal channels, may be eligible for Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS) assistance. You can reach TAS by calling the TAS toll-free case intake line at 1-877-777-4778 or TTY/TDD 1-800-829-4059.

Protect yourself from suspicious emails or phishing schemes.

Phishing is the creation and use of email and websites designed to mimic legitimate business emails and websites. The most common act is sending an email to a user falsely claiming to be an established legitimate enterprise in an attempt to scam the user into surrendering private information that will be used for identity theft.

The IRS does not initiate contacts with taxpayers via emails. Also, the IRS does not request personal detailed information through email or ask taxpayers for the PIN numbers, passwords, or similar secret access information for their credit card, bank, or other financial accounts.

If you receive an unsolicited email claiming to be from the IRS, forward this message to phishing@irs.gov. You may also report misuse of the IRS name, logo, or other IRS property to the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (TIGTA) at 1-800-366-4484. You can forward suspicious emails to the Federal Trade Commission at spam@uce.gov or report them at www.ftc.gov/complaint. You can contact the FTC at www.ftc.gov/idtheft or 877-IDTHEFT (877-438-4338). If you have been the victim of identity theft, see www.IdentityTheft.gov and Pub. 5027.

Visit www.irs.gov/IdentityTheft to learn more about identity theft and how to reduce your risk.

Privacy Act Notice

Section 6109 of the Internal Revenue Code requires you to provide your correct TIN to persons (including federal agencies) who are required to file information returns with the IRS to report interest, dividends, or certain other income paid to you; mortgage interest you paid; the acquisition or abandonment of secured property; the cancellation of debt; or contributions you made to an IRA, Archer MSA, or HSA. The person collecting this form uses the information on the form to file information returns with the IRS, reporting the above information. Routine uses of this information include giving it to the Department of Justice for civil and criminal litigation and to cities, states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. commonwealths and possessions for use in administering their laws. The information also may be disclosed to other countries under a treaty, to federal and state agencies to enforce civil and criminal laws, or to federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to combat terrorism. You must provide your TIN whether or not you are required to file a tax return. Under section 3406, payers must generally withhold a percentage of taxable interest, dividend, and certain other payments to a payee who does not give a TIN to the payer. Certain penalties may also apply for providing false or fraudulent information.
