“I thought I was going to a farmers market in McKinney but it was more than that. I had not expected to find the beautiful old buildings, pretty yards, homes with porches and a true market that delivered jams, breads, honey, all kinds of fruit and vegetables. I felt like I had gone back in time when life was simpler and you could actually taste food at its' purist.”

“If you want a stunning venue and a team that is as emotionally invested in your day as you are and values you as a person rather than another paycheck, look no further than Chestnut Square.”
