CHAPTER CXXVIII

An Act to define and declare the rights of persons lately known as Slaves, and Free Persons of Color.

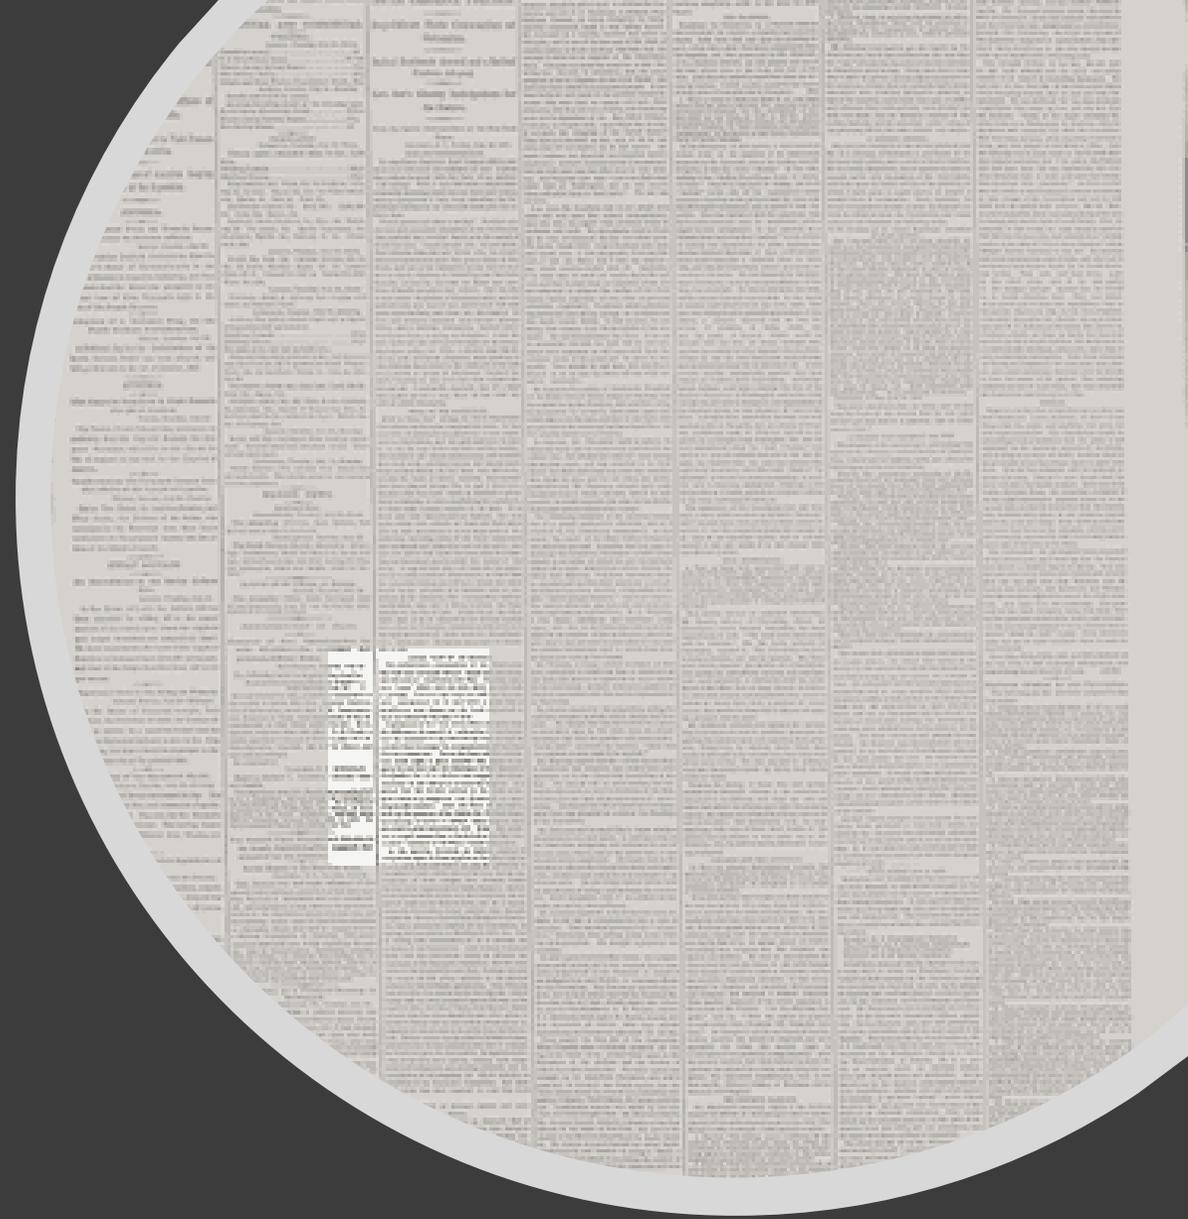

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That all persons heretofore known as slaves, and free persons of color, shall have the right to make and enforce contracts, to sue and be sued, to inherit, purchase, lease, hold, sell, and convey real, personal and mixed estate; to make wills and testaments, and to have and enjoy the rights of personal security, liberty, and private property, and all remedies and proceedings for the protection and enforcement of the same; and there shall be no discrimination against such persons in the administration of the criminal laws of this State.

Sec. 2. That all laws and parts of laws relating to persons lately held as slaves, or free persons of color, contrary to, or in conflict with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed; Provided, nevertheless, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to repeal any law prohibiting the intermarriage of the white and black races, nor to permit any other than white men to serve on juries, hold office, or vote at any election, State, county, or municipal: Provided, farther, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to allow them to testify, except in such cases and manner as is prescribed in the Constitution of the State.

Approved November 10, 1866.

"A careful consideration of the reports of Major General Charles Griffin, United States army, shows that J. W. Throckmorton, Governor of Texas, is an impediment to the reconstruction of that state under the law; he is thereby removed from that office. E.M. Pease is hereby appointed in place of J.W. Throckmorton, removed. He will be obeyed and respected accordingly"

GREAT CROWDS AT THE RE-UNION AND PICNIC

THOUSANDS THROUGH THE GROUNDS--DINNER TO VETERANS--ABLE SPEECHES DELIVERED.

Best general weather favored the second day of the Biennial Annual Picnic and Reunion at Beggs park, Thursday. The big services were enthusiastically met from five to six thousand people, and the grounds down at that there were neither mud nor willow down to ruin the picnic.

Thousands of people were in the grounds in the morning. The grounds were filled with war veterans and their families. The picnic was held on the grounds of the Beggs park.

At the speakers stand, a most interesting program was rendered. All the men were occupied and the liberal applause greeting the speakers showed that the people were well and profitably entertained.

Judge Brown said that forty-two years ago he was a law office and bench a wretched man. He said that he had been a lawyer and a judge, and that he had been a member of the Confederate army.

He expressed the hearty and devoted of the Collin county veterans and their families. He said that he had been a member of the Confederate army and that he had been a lawyer and a judge.

Miss Daffan Speaks.

Chairman E. W. Kirkpatrick next introduced Miss Kate Daffan who spoke a few minutes on the work of the Daughters of the Confederacy. This young lady is recognized as one of the South's most talented women--beautiful, educated, eloquent, fluent, pleasing yet forceful, in address and, withal, of tireless zeal for the proper appreciation of the old Confederate veterans and his happiness, and the exaltation of the principles for which he contended. She declared the Daughters of the Confederacy will be charitable, historical, memorial and social in its objects, and the organization worthy, indeed, of the support of the fair womanhood of our South. She reviewed the work of the Daughters of the Confederacy and the establishment and perpetuation of our government and the undying devotion and glad sacrifices made by her for the defense of rights, home and country. Her address on this occasion, as well as later in the day at the Kirkpatrick home, was a gem, sparkling with historic interest and beautiful sentiment. We regret we have not the full text to print it in full, for it is certainly worth the space and worthy the study of all our readers. She added her plea to that of Judge Brown's and Col. Doggett's for the completion of the Throckmorton monument.

The Longer Lasting Washer

You will keep your youth longer, LAST LONGER, if you turn your washday troubles over to this light-running HORTON Washer. It will straighten the bent back and drooping shoulders, rest tired arms and limbs, smooth out the WRINKLES of washday that are going to make you old before your time if you stick to old-fashioned machines or methods.

This HORTON Galvanized Rotary Washer is a new kind of washer. It is geared up to run at double speed while you TURN slowly. It will do a heavy washing quickly, with easy work at the wheel, and wash ALL the dirt out of the clothes, for the hot rods are forced through the fabric at high pressure. It is light and easy to handle, and gets in and out doors, up and down cellar stairs. The galvanized metal tub is light in weight but stronger than any wooden tub. It cannot leak or "hold down" and always keeps sweet, because it can not absorb water.

For your own sake, you should at least have a look at this machine and see what modern science has done to lighten your household labor. Just drop into a good store and ask them to show you the BACK TALK.

The Daughters of the Confederacy have undertaken the uncompleted task of finishing the Throckmorton statue on our court house plaza. Any person so inclined is invited to help them in a financial way in this work of honoring the memory of Collin county's most eminent citizen, soldier, statesman and patriot.

With a new three-story city hall, a $200,000 cotton factory, a $65,000 federal building and other substantial improvements all coming to McKinney in this good year of 1910, the people of the town can well afford to do honor to themselves, their county and to the state by completing the proposed monument to J. W. Throckmorton, who was, indeed, a "most eminent citizen, soldier, statesman and patriot."

McKinney has a man in the new for government of Texas district this good year of our Lord, his hands and feet... McKinley is getting busy on his $200,000 cotton factory... Greenville is moving the home for a street out line and about one-third of the amount has already been raised... Thompson Brown is still in the "obnoxious" but his address in this country virtually means some of the realizations into all kinds of his... McKinley will have a man in the new for government of Texas district this good year of our Lord, his hands and feet... Who will start the petition for an extension of $250,000 "Good Roads" bonds? There would be no doubt days for our farmers if we still had the millions of good roads leading to McKinley from every direction... Some people are here wondering in some of the states... From 1876 through 1964, the majority of the States in the southern United States enforced racial segregation by passing laws known as "Jim Crow" laws. These laws ordered restricted access of public facilities to African-Americans. The Civil Rights Act of 1964, combined with the 14th Amendment to the US Constitution, put an end to these laws.

This painted sign was uncovered during the 2004-2005 rehabilitation of the Collier County Courthouse. Our community, like much of the nation, engaged in the discriminatory practice of racial segregation by forcing African-Americans to use separate public facilities, including buses, schools, water fountains and restrooms. The painting has been preserved so that we may remember the past, but the doors have been sealed forever - never to be opened again.

From 1876 through 1964, the majority of the States in the southern United States enforced racial segregation by passing laws known as "Jim Crow" laws. These laws ordered restricted access of public facilities to African-Americans. The Civil Rights Act of 1964, combined with the 14th Amendment to the US Constitution, put an end to these laws.
