RECOMMENDED CITY COUNCIL ACTION: No formal action - only receive public input on filed, Illustrative Redistricting Plans

ITEM SUMMARY:

- The filed redistricting plans will be described by the City's redistricting consultant, and citizen input on those plans will be received.
- All plans have been analyzed by the redistricting consultants Bickerstaff Heath Delgado Acosta, LLP., using census software to show the breakdowns of population and ethnicity in each district.
- After the public hearing, the City Council may set a final date for adoption of an ordinance establishing new single-member districts incorporating one of the filed plans.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

- The initial assessment of 2020 Census data determined that City Council districts are sufficiently out of population, such that redistricting boundaries should take place.
- On November 16, 2021, the City Council adopted criteria related to the redistricting process and guidelines for citizens to submit redistricting plans.
- On January 25, 2022, three (3) separate redistricting plans were presented, at which time the Council provided input and requested an additional plan be developed based on the work session discussion.
- On February 15, 2022, several redistricting plans were developed and discussed with further input from the City Council on all plans. Mr. Seaquist was directed to finalize Plan D as the City's Preferred Plan and schedule a public input hearing after the U.S. Census CVAP (Citizen Voting Age Population) data by race and ethnicity was received in April 2022.
